INTERNATIONAL JOURNALISM SEMINAR

The demand for media professionals trained to deal with international audiences and coverage has risen dramatically, in response to the globalization of news and markets, and the increase in the number of multinational communications companies.

This Third International Seminar, organized by the Journalism Area of the University Miguel Hernández, intends to discuss the development of journalism in a global context.

The IJS offers monthly sessions with in-depth knowledge of the latest trends in the media industry. Each session consists of the speakers' lecture, followed by questions and answers, with a great deal of interaction. You are encouraged to participate.

First Semester Sessions

-17th October 2012, 12.15 AM

"Your summer experience"
IJS students meet to talk about their summer experiences (journalism practice, travel, vacation...) and get to know each other

Moderated by prof. Jose A. García Avilés (UMH)

-7th November 2012, 12.15 AM

Prof. Geir Conrad Tufte, Ostfold University College (Norway)
